How Does The Employee Referral Program Work?

The Employee Referral Program provides employees and their families with opportunities to obtain assistance for a variety of personal problems which may affect their continued functioning as productive members West Virginia State Government or society as a whole. Confidential referrals are made for treatment with independent, off-site, professionals who are experienced in a wide range of issues including relationship, conflict, family concerns, and alcohol or drug abuse that can have a negative effect on the employee's personal and work lives.

This Employee Referral Program Directory provides information regarding services for individuals who have substance-related problems. The directory is published as a service to State employees and is intended to provide contact information for substance abuse treatment programs located throughout the State. Although many service providers are represented here, the list is not intended to be all-inclusive. In many communities, individual professionals such as licensed psychologists, licensed social workers, and licensed professional counselors also provide services for chemically-dependent/abusing individuals and their families. Some hospitals also provide inpatient substance abuse services as part of their psychiatric or general medical services.
